In your opinion, what makes a fully accessible venue?

wheelchair access

Central (to public transport) or easily accessed (with parking). All basic facilities, not too cold or hot. Tables/surfaces to work on.

Clean venue. Good car parking. Comfortable conditions inside (chairs/toilets/air-conditioning)

The disability discrimination act. It's a legal requirement

I don't know

somewhere that is considerate and flexible with accessibility needs be it physical disability/neurodiversity

Sound is important and the Marble Hall can have bad sound. Having good connectivity as well so that people who can't participate in physical events because of cost or physical barriers, can rely on good internet to follow events.

Wheelchair access, diversity policies, bilingual posters and information. Widely advertised in different communities.

Parking/public transport access, access to building and facilities for wheelchair users, ability to use loop system for hearing impaired users, toilets that are inclusive of range of needs

Easily accessed by public transport

Parking

don't know, sorry

Facilities for people with disabilities - eg ramps, hearing loops, usable doors. Accessibility by public transport.

Sensitive to all people s needs

Wheelchair access outside and inside the building, accessible toilets, braille signs, hearing aid loop signs.

One that meets positive values

Not sure

Places to park, disabled access

Disabled access & parking

Wheelchair, visual, audio access support along with inclusive loos.

Good edi policy in practice, accessible on all levels

Full wheelchair accessibility at all points

Closer to the main city and having parking for people coming from a far distance.

Temple of Peace is best venue

As it is nearby city centre, in a quiet space.

Do you have any suggestions on how we can improve our visibility and engagement with the community?

Na

social media

Offer discounts to community groups? Target specific groups to raise awareness?

Raise your profile on social media.

Employ a marketing manager to promote the venue (before that, speak to Cardiff City Councils events team. They are ace)

I would use the Temple more frequently, but the facilities often appear unclean including kitchens and toilets. There hasn't been a focus on aesthetics, which are important. We hosted a meeting with some important guests and there were buckets in the council chamber to collect water etc.

Encourage more ethical market sales on certain weekends to showcase the venue, work with other organisations to promote venue hire, give community groups discounts and trial hiring opportunities. Increase social media presence and videos of what the temple can offer. Improve the audio equipment and PA that's on offer as the main hall is very difficult for acoustics. Use as a theatre venue/arts venue especially as St David's Hall is going to be closed for such a long time.

Social media

don't know, sorry

I don't live in Cardiff so hard for me to suggest

Advertise the venue.

No

The Temple needs investment. The kitchen facilities need to be updated. It needs more cleaning (bins in the kitchen are full for weeks)

Wales online

Work with schools & colleges offering space for exhibition and shows

Marketing/stakeholder engagement plan

Using social media more and organising more events and trying to connect with students.
